

by a standard of justice—Is Allah unchangeable?
—Justice of Allah—The chief attribute—God's omniscience purely physical—His power—He does not sleep—Real Unity of God absent—The Koran idea of holiness—The Pantheism of force
—The idea of the mystics—Views of other sects—Allah the light of the world.

V. THE RELATION OF ALLAH TO HIS WORLD 64

The fundamental idea in Moslem theology—Palgrave as a critic of Islam—His famous characterization of Allah—The Absolute and Omnipotent Monad—He is jealous of His creatures—Wahabi teaching orthodox—Moslem idea of Creation—Koran texts—Contradictions—the days of creation—God the author of evil—The universe not infinite—Creation of the pen—The throne of God—How God sits—Speculation and orthodoxy—Renan's opinion—Allah leads men astray—No hope in Islam—One-sided idea of God—God above us, with us, in us.

VI. MOHAMMEDAN IDEAS OF THE TRINITY 77

The negative side of the Moslem idea of God—Clark's remark on this aspect of false religions—The two foci of Moslem controversy—The idea of the Trinity fundamental and essential—Koran references to the doctrine—Misapprehension of true Trinity—The testimony of the commentaries—How they differ and why—Indirect references in the Koran—Shirk—Are Christians polytheists?—The Christology of the Koran—The person of Christ—His birth—The denial of Christ's divinity—And the Atonement—Hatred of the Cross—Christ's place in heaven—The Holy Spirit is the Angel Gabriel—Was Mohammed ignorant of true Christian teaching concerning the Trinity?—The